Growing Pains Worrying Telephone Company

"What ever it is, we've got the biggest," the reputed attitude of Americans—seems to be true of our telephone system. More folks are wanting telephones all the time, and the Company says it costs a lot of money. That they have been putting in a lot of underground cable of the latest type all around the State. They've laid cable from the coast to Glades and to the several towns in the Glades—or are in process of doing so. The claim is—and it sounds reasonable—that it will not be without phones during our seasonal "blows" with main cables underground.

In order to help pay for these improvements in the Company went to the Railroad Commission asking for increases in rates. The Commission asked the Company about "Extended Service," which means being able to talk to near-by communities—Pahokee, Canal Point, Under a system where the usual toll charge. In other parts of the state the same thing will apply.

The company says "hookay" if you will pay. Now in Belle Glade it is proposed that a business man pay $3.75 per month and you can get extended service for $7.50. You may talk as much to Pahokee as you want. Under a system where you have no choice of the service, but must take it, your charge would be $6.50 and everyone would take it.

For home phones, individual, you pay $3.25 per month with $2.50 for extended service to those who want it. Under the compulsory system everyone would have to pay $3.50, but could talk to Pahokee as much as desired.

Now comes the question, which the Company doesn't want to answer—they want you to answer it. Do you want the COMPULSORY rate with unlimited talking to Pahokee, or do you want the OPTIONAL rate, where those who desire it will pay more for that service?

PRIVATE OFFICE (Continued From Page 3) The clinic, which had been stolen from the Rashley Jewelry store on North Fifth Street, the most valuable for 60 per cent in that robbery, however, has not been recovered.

On Sunday morning, Nick Jones, reported to the police that his automobile had been stolen from in front of his business place on West Avenue E. Later in the day the car was found parked at the rear of the Chevrolet garage.

Russell Sutcliffe, of West Palm Beach, came out and spent the night at a local hotel, with intent of getting an early Sunday morning start on a hunting trip. He neglected to take his hunting equipment from his car to his room, and when he went to the car, all of it was gone, including three Remington jump shot guns, run case, hunting coat, ammunition, and other articles.

The jail cook reported that on Sunday morning, he had prepared breakfast for 60 persons confined in the city lock-up. A large number of these offenders "paid out" during the day.

START A MOVEMENT (Continued From Page 11) Incidentally, from Page 11, we include with President Earwood, as in his weekly press release, "he has a similar proposition, which reads as follows:

"Excess of supplies over demand is causing the growers of Florida vegetables and citrus to be in the market for their important products," said William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets, in his weekly farm market review here today. The market growers have been hard hit and need for a broader market is evident and the citrus situation is very serious.

Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture and Governor Charles F. Fuller Warren are to be commended on their stand toward the grower. It has always been Mr. Mayo's policy to do everything in his power to get the best returns for the man who grows the produce—for without the grower most of the industries in Florida would be out of business.

An idea was advanced at a meeting of growers held in Orlando on December 5, that the canning industry, in particular, place a minimum price on citrus paid to the grower and the industry organize and cooperate to hold this floor. If a volunteer plan such as this could be honestly worked out it would at least assure cost of all growers.

It is hoped that a committee appointed at that meeting to study this situation will be able to recommend a workable plan and that the industry as a whole will back it, said William L. Wilson.

Out local Chamber has sent out communications to a number of Vegetable and Produce brokers, who have replied with favorable comment, and offer to join in such a marketing crusade in behalf of the Florida Growers.

Everglades Park Project Given High Recognition

Ernest F. Coe, sometimes called and designated as the "Father" of the Everglades National Park, which occupies the southwestern tip of Florida, the past week, was given a signal honor at a gathering in Miami, when Adolph Nehring, of the Massachusetts Horticultural Association, presented him with the George Robert White, badge of honor.

For years Coe has been the guardian angel and protector of the lands of the park, supervising improvements, and was instrumental in getting the Federal Government to take over the park, after the state had made certain magnificent donations of land and money. Only recently the Park management added more than 40,000 additional acres to the park area.

The Everglades Park is the only one in the United States, which partially lies in the tropics, and only here can be found the trees, ferns, grasses, and wild animals of that zone, along with natural beauty. The park promises within a few years to be a tourist paradise, which will mean many thousands of dollars to the state and Federal government income.

Seniors and Juniors Sell Tickets on Ford

The Juniors and Seniors are selling chances on the 49 Ford that the Lions Club is raffling on Christmas Eve. The money is to go for the building of a swimming pool. The Juniors and Seniors get one per cent of what they sell and are competing with one another for the $50 prize which will be given to the class selling the most tickets. A prize of fifteen dollars will be given to the class selling the winning ticket, Christmas Dance.

The Senior class is sponsoring a semi-formal dance at the Country Club on December 21st. It is going to be held in honor of the alumni. The Letterman's Club is also sponsoring a dance New Years Eve (Formal) which is only for Lettermen from three years back and their dates.

Christmas Parties
The Senior English Classes are having a Christmas party Friday in their first and fourth period classes. They decided to draw names and exchange gifts not costing over fifty cents. A contest was held Tuesday. A contest where many words could be made from Merry Christmas and the losing side has to set the other side up and pay for their refreshments.

We have a World Bill of Rights which, in principle, is a good one. It should cover more ground than a Zerkow's Bill of Rights. The principle of the Bill of Rights is that the U. We are all for it, because we know the world has not given us a Bill of Rights, there isn't going to be much left of it.

and Professional Woman's club and the American Legion Auxiliary, for all of these are working in co-operation to see that it does not happen. The Elks are donating the city likewise, and the Lions club is giving the Salvation Army in distribution work. The Salvation Army list it being made the key one, from which this Christmas charity and cheer will be based.

Postmaster George Farnell, states that several thousands of dollars have been spent in the purchase of Christmas cards in the area, judging by the flood of such messages going through the local postoffice. The Postmaster's force already is running round to care for outgoing and incoming mail, and what the whirl will be around Christmas day almost brings consternation to the clerks and himself. Farnell again says, "Do your mailing early."

Governor elect Fuller Warren has made certain things known about what he expects to do about certain illegal procedures in the state. Two of the announcements are: That "bookies" will be under his hammer.

and that the slot machines are taboo. That makes the east coast gamblers feel a sickness about the mid-riff. Pari-mutuals will be permitted to operate at the race tracks. The pronouncement means that the Elks' who do not enforce the laws on these lines will find a governor's officer doing the sheriff work.

Heard a man who has silver in his hair, say that he has just about gotten to the stage, where he had to get a motor to pull his hand plow.

Are you going up to Tallahassee to see the new Governor Fuller Warren inaugurated? The old capitol city is promised one of the wildest and weirdest inaugural parties in its long history. There will be plenty of fuss, feathers, and functions at the capitol building and executive session. Several special trains to be operated by the rail companies to accommodate south Florida visitors.

One of our prominent farmers, as well as a stock raiser, a woman at that, in conversation about the bean market situation, made the remarks, "That she was growing more in love with the stock deal, and against the former, for in the cattle business there were not so many hazards to combat, and stock did not have to be sold till the owner was ready to sell, or the market favorable."

Washington's Lincoln's 4th of July, Labor Day and Thanksgiving day holidays are passed and turn off the calendar. Now we are preparing for the Christmas and New Year's celebrations. There are many features about the last two named days, one of religious of sentiment and significance and the other purely sentimental. The two events are differently observed. For one the writer likes the Christmas entertainment period on account of the sentimental value at that time. Nothing sweeter than those Yule tide hymns as sung by the kiddies. Old as I am, I like the Christmas tree with its varied colored illumination, and the exchange of gifts that go with the tree.

Run across an interesting story of the early Glades which was published in the Ft. Myers Press some 43 years ago. It related the story of how Stafford Powers and William Pool, of LaBelle, discovered an unusual burial mound in the South Bay sector, while hunting out lafias that could be used for agriculture. The men while walking through the tall saw grass—grass run across a sand mound 100 feet in dimension, and they wondered why and how it came to be there, as there were no sand deposits anywhere.

The mound was opened and here is the story the discoverers related at that time. "Many rare gold and silver trinkets of Spanish make had been found in the shell mounds along the coast, particularly at Mound Key, but that a special mound should be discovered in the wonderful Everglades, that are at present attracting so much attention, seems remarkable not so much on account of the distance from the coast but because it is wonderfully strange that such a spot at the new mound discovered in the saw grass south of Lake Okechobee should have been selected for a burial place.

"The discoverer of the mound is Stafford Powers of LaBelle, who was accompanied by William Pool, of the same place. Mr. Powers was in town Tuesday and showed us many trinkets dug from this mound. He informed us that Pool and himself started into the rich muck lands from South Bay, looking for land high enough to grow garden truck. They had proceeded three-quarters of a mile south through the saw grass when they were astonished to find a sand mound 100 feet in width. How the sand came there was a mystery, as the deep muck is too soft for any conveyance to travel over it. It is evident that the sand must have been brought from the shores of Lake Okechobee.

Upon digging into the mound a few feet the decayed skeletons of many human bodies were discovered. Mr. Powers, estimating that there were 200 bodies there. Among these decayed remains of an unknown people were found many mysterious trinkets of gold and silver, copper, glass and bone. Mr. Powers brought some of these relics to town with him and showed them in the Press office. The relics consist of a piece of cathedral glass, Spanish coins, pearly beads, white and blue cut glass beads of various designs, enough solid silver beads to form a pea necklace from the size of a pea to that of a pean nut, one bead representing the head of a dragon; a silver cross over two inches in height, all had broken, several silver shields, large glass beads, some in the shape of hearts, a sickle of hand-beaten silver, with a man's head on the handle, a number of solid gold beads similar to those found at Key Mound near Ft. Myers."

I have attended many important lodge sessions, and heard the distinguished speaker, but gold beads similar to those found at Key Mound near Ft. Myers."

When your forming your opinion.

Do it carefully—Go slow

Hasty judgments oft are followed

By regretting, that, I know.

And in arguments be careful

Not too quickly to decide,

Try to look upon the matter

From the other fellow's side."

Two quarter-wits met. One said, "Yesterday, I took a girl to tea—I paid for that. Then I took her to dinner, and I paid for that. After I took her to the theater, and I paid for that. Then I took her to a night club and I paid for that! Do you think I should have kissed her good night?"

"No," declared the other quarter-wit. "I think you did enough for her!"

A son-in-law was so annoyed at his mother-in-law that he threw her out of a fourth-story window. In court, the judge denounced the guilty one.

"Do you mean to say," asked the judge, "that just because you were annoyed by your mother-in-law you threw her out of a fourth-story window? Have you any idea how dangerous that was in case somebody was passing by at the time?"

Last call was sounded by Postmaster George Farnell for patrons wishing to have Christmas cards and gift parcels delivered to cities any distance by Christmas Day.

Emphasizing that only a few days remain until Christmas, the local postmaster warned late mailers that air mail and parcel post facilities should be used exclusively. Otherwise the unprecedented volume of mail now in transit, gifts traveling by slower methods face the probability of not reaching their destination in ample time.

He pointed out that mail going by air mail will reach any point in the United States overnight, and in some instances will reach overseas points in 24 hours, particularly to United States possessions and territories as well as Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

There is an average lapse of only seven seconds between landings or takeoffs of scheduled mail planes flying over the 127,000 miles of domestic routes, according to Postmaster George Farnell, while overseas bound planes leave every thirty minutes.

Jacksonville Man Gets Three Bass On One Cast
"Sophia" Sewell, of Royal's, Inc., last week, had a couple of friends from Jacksonville, namely Bill Baker and Chester Crocask, as his guests, so he took them out on the big lake for a bit of sportsman enjoyment. The men were both amateurs at the fishing game, but Bill Baker, got the thrill of his life when he pulled off a rather rare stunt, by landing three bass on one cast, the combined weight of the fish trio being around seven pounds. Baker was so excited that he nearly jumped from the boat before he landed his fish. Chemick had to be satisfied with two bass on two casts.

Florida Seeking 1950 National Cattlemen's Convention for Miami

The Florida Cattlemen's Association plans to send its official family to the National Live Stock Association convention to be held in North Platte, Nebraska, which will be held in January. The group goes not only to represent the state, and for investigation, but also to invite the Association to hold its 1950 convention in Miami. Florida has expanded so greatly in the cattle business, with all grades of improved stock, and the growers from other parts of the nation have a curious and apprehensive eyes on Florida as a potential competitor, that they will want to come and see for themselves, and what is believed to be the drawing card that will bring the convention to Florida.

Half a Century of Service
To American Business

The first Certified Public Accountant Law in the United States was enacted by the State of New York in 1898. Every State and territory followed suit with similar legislation. (Florida passed such a law in 1905).

These laws were enacted in recognition of a public need for the establishment of professional standards of education, experience, competence and integrity for those who would render professional services relating to accounting procedures, preparation and presentation of financial statements. Only those who have met the standards prescribed by the State statutes may use the designation, Certified Public Accountant.

The accounting profession is young in comparison with medicine and law, but Certified Public Accountants have gained their experience in a period of unusual complexity and rapid change in American business. They combine this experience with intelligent judgment to provide small, as well as large, business with the competent and confidential service so necessary for continued profitable operations.

Thiebaud, Coach Cooke, Henry Earwood, Jack Johnson and H. S. Sewell. Rotary members are M. A. Murphy, Walter Hooker, Tom Watson, Jr., Roscoe Braddock and Lou Betzner.

For the thirteenth consecutive year, Belle Glade will have a Community Tree. Santa Claus will forsake his sleigh and reindeer in favor of the fire truck and is scheduled to arrive in the City Park immediately following the Cantata. There Santa will distribute bags of candy, nuts and fruits to all the children of the community.

The Christmas Tree was furnished by the City of Belle Glade and decorated by the Fire Department. Mrs. Lois Davis is Chairman of the Community Tree Committee.

A Greeting 435 Years Old

I salute you: There is nothing I can give you which you have not; but there is much, that, while I cannot give you, you can take . . . No heaven can come to us unless our hearts find rest in it today. Take Heaven . . . No peace lies in the future which is not hidden in the present. Take Peace . . . The gloom of the world is but a shadow; behind it, yet within our reach is joy. Take Joy . . . And so at this Christmastime, I greet you, with the prayer that for you, now and forever, the day breaks and the shadows flee away.

Negro Caught in Burglary Act by Police and Mock

Walter Ward, colored, was lodged in the Belle Glade Jail Saturday by Deputy Constable Raymond Mock and transferred to the County Jail at West Palm Beach Tuesday charged with breaking and entering and also with entering without breaking.

He was caught Saturday in the South Bay negro sub-division by Chief of Police C. G. Payne and Deputy Constable Mock in the act of making away with a $92.00 combination radio phonograph from the home of Luella Chastine.

When the officers gave chase he fugitive leaped in the drainage canal with the radio in his arms in the attempt to escape the clutches of the law. He was captured without difficulty.

Upon examination they found that he had engaged in a series of radio and clothing thefts during the week.

It developed that he had sold a radio to San Landy for $10.00, only to break into the Landy home the next day and steal the radio and $76.00 worth of clothing among which was a suit of clothes, 3 pairs of trousers and a shirt. The radio he had again sold, this time for $1.00 to one Donald Chastain. The clothing was sold to Charlie Hawkins.

These transactions were followed by the theft of the radio phonograph in broad daylight Saturday which proved his down fall.

but Dobbin had only 1 H. P.

Anybody could drive Dobbin. And when the young folks wanted to learn, why Dad, Uncle Bill or even Grandpa could give them lessons in a jiffy. But those were the horse and buggy days.

Now it's different. Dobbin's one horse power has been multiplied a hundred times—his jogging five miles per hour increased to fifty or more, and country roads have become crowded highways. Dangerous highways!

Learning to drive, the automobiles of today demands expert instruction, so that young drivers will know how to control safely the power and speed at their command. Many high schools in Florida offer driver education courses, under experienced instructors. If there's one in your community, be sure your son or daughter enrolls in it. If not, get advice from the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles in Tallahassee.

Proper training will help make new drivers—safe drivers.
